Hugoton Students Travel to Topeka to Serve as Pages for Senate President Steve Morris

TOPEKA – Senate President Steve Morris (R-Hugoton) on Monday welcomed a group of students from Hugoton Middle School to serve as pages for the day in the Kansas Senate. Adam Scott, Logan Romero, Kyra Skinner and Serena Turpin made the trip accompanied by Kyra's parents, Tony and Jackie Bruce; and Adam's mother, Susie Scott. Logan is the son of Tommy Romero and Serena is the daughter of Doug and Rosa Turpin.

Senate President Morris said, "For most students, paging is the only experience that brings them into the Senate Chamber where they can observe first hand the way the state legislature operates. I am always happy to have pages from my district; I know it is a big commitment for the kids and parents to make the long drive up from Hugoton. It means a great deal to me to have a group from my own home town. Hopefully, their day in the capitol had a positive impact, and perhaps one day, one of them will be representing me in the Kansas Senate."

All four students are eighth graders at Hugoton Middle School.

Pages assist elected officials and staff by running errands, putting together mailings, and other necessary duties. Pages should be at least 12 years of age; each page is paid $3.00 for serving the legislature for a day.
